

KITEMAUG LIGHT AND POWER PLANT

Legislature Will be Petitioned For Charter—To Furnish Electric Current in Towns of Montville, Waterford and at Gales Ferry—W. B. Walker, F. W. Browning and C. W. Comstock on Application For Charter.

If a petition to come before the next session of the legislature is granted the banks of the Thames river will have one more industrial plant added to those already located along this fine waterway for commercial purposes. A petition for a charter for the Kitemaug Electric Light and Power company is to be presented when the session of the general assembly convenes at Hartford in January.

The petition asks for a charter granting power to install, construct and operate an electric light and power company in the towns of Montville, Waterford and Ledyard. Those signing the petition are William E. Walker, who is the president of the American Thermos Bottle company, Frank W. Browning and Charles W. Comstock. Mr. Comstock also appears as attorney for the petitioners.

Mr. Browning, it was stated over the telephone, was in New York Thursday evening, but Attorney Comstock said that the plant of the company was intended to be located in Montville on the banks of the Thames river and on property of the Kitemaug Orchard company, and that a steam plant would be put up. It was the purpose of the company to manufacture electricity for the purposes of light, heat, and power in the towns mentioned.

The town of Ledyard would be reached by a cable under the river and the village of Gales Ferry was looked upon as a place that would be supplied by the company. Montville and Waterford would also furnish a good field for its product. He could not tell what sized plant would be put up as that would depend largely upon how many people it was found would make use of the electricity they produced.

The petition has been presented before Judge Shumway of the superior court who has found that the adverse parties consist of more than twenty individuals so that he has ordered the notice of the pendency of the petition be published, according to law.

JUDGMENTS AGAINST C. V. FOR OVERWORKING TRAINMEN

Railroad Company Had Five Men on One Train for Over Sixteen Hours.

Judgments amounting to $200 have been entered against the Central Vermont Railroad company in the United States district court in Hartford by order of Judge James L. Martin as the result of five suits brought against the railroad company by United States District Attorney Fred A. Scott, charging the company with violation of the hours of service act in that the company kept five trainmen at work on one train for more than sixteen consecutive hours between Brattleboro, Vt., and New London, February 13 and 14. The Central Vermont consented to judgment against it for $100 in each case.

MOCK TRIAL.

Made Entertaining Evening at Mt. Calvary Baptist Church.

The mock trial on the disappearance of Jennie Price was given Thursday evening under the auspices of the Norwich Bible and Literary society of Mt. Calvary Baptist church. The trial was well carried out and was much enjoyed by the large audience which filled the room to the doors. The principal characters:

Judge Anthony, William Mallison, assisted by Judge Mayor, Rev. J. H. Dennis; lawyers, District Attorney Bigelow, Alfred Jackson, and assistant, Howard Wilson; lawyer for the defense, H. D. McKnight, and assistant, Mrs. Ida Thomas; court clerk, Mrs. Zellen, Mrs. A. E. Drury; court stenographer, Mrs. Freno, Mrs. Abram Compton.

After a summing up by the lawyers on each side and the judge's charge, a verdict of "Not Guilty" was brought in by the foreman, Mrs. William Mallison, in favor of the accused Mr. Price.

Fire Alarm Box 43.

The new fire alarm box No. 43, located opposite the corner of Laurel Hill avenue and Winchester street has been connected in by Chief Stanton and is accordingly ready to serve its purpose when required.

While Red Cross seals may be placed anywhere on Christmas packages, the post office authorities prefer to have them on the back or upper or lower left hand corners of envelopes or packages so as not to interfere with canceling regular stamps.

spring and went to the hearts of all present.

An old gentleman in the congregation nearly 90 years of age, stood up and said that at last he had found the truth, for which he had been looking and praying for many years. This scene of the old man confessing his new found love for the Christ was very touching, and shows in a measure the good that the Salvation Army officers are doing about the city.

Another service will be held in the church tonight (Friday), and a large attendance is expected.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Friends Celebrated Wednesday Evening With Miss Lillian Austin.

Wednesday evening about twenty friends of Miss Lillian Austin gathered at the home of Mrs. Rose Rowell on Church street, where a pleasant evening was passed in honor of Miss Austin's birthday. Several piano solos were rendered by Miss Austin and singing was enjoyed by all during the evening. Games also helped to pass the time pleasantly, and at 10 o'clock all adjourned to the dining room, where a bountiful lunch of sandwiches, cake, coffee and ice cream was served by Mrs. Rowell, assisted by Miss Rose Morrissey. The party broke up at a late hour and all voted that it was an evening that will be remembered for some time.

Sues for Divorce.

Henry C. Venter has instituted in the superior court in New Haven an action for divorce against his wife, Sophie Venter. The husband asks for the separation on the ground of desertion, which, he alleges, occurred in 1909.

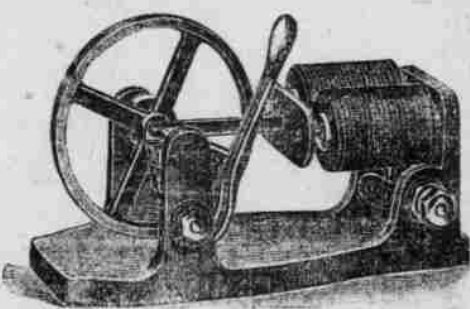

Mr. Venter was employed in the Winchester factory for 14 years. He is now superintendent of the Hopkins & Allen Firearms company of Norwich.

Present to United Workers.

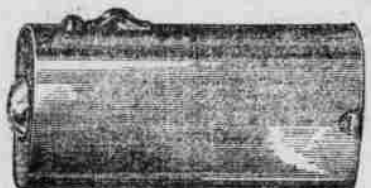

From the proceeds of their recent minstrel show the Round About Social club has made a contribution to the United Workers for which they received thanks and encouragement. The club has been asked to furnish entertainment at the almshouse in the near future, which they are pleased to do.

State Comptroller Thomas D. Bradstreet has succeeded in securing almost all of the pictures of his predecessors in office and the collection has recently been hung in the office of the state comptroller at the capitol.

Tell The Grocer That You Want These Good Florida Oranges

Ripe Florida oranges and grapefruit are the sweetest and juiciest that can be had. Oranges and grapefruit packed by the Florida Citrus Exchange, a mutual benefit association of progressive growers, are ripened on the trees. They are sweet and juicy always—they're not expected to get ripe after they are picked.

Only a portion of the Florida citrus fruit crop is good enough to go out under the Exchange brand—stenciled in red on each box, as shown here. You can avoid disappointments by specifying Florida Citrus Exchange Fruit to your grocer.

Buy Tree-Ripened Florida Citrus Exchange Oranges and Grapefruit by the Box—Drink the Juice for Health and Vigor

To enjoy citrus fruits, drink the juice. Tree-ripened Florida oranges and grapefruit have more juice than others—they mature later and become sweeter every day they are growing. Test this yourself. Take two Florida Citrus Exchange oranges and three of any other brand, of the same size. Squeeze the juice into glasses. You will find the two oranges from "the box with the red brand" of the Florida Citrus Exchange have more juice than the three ordinary oranges. Then taste the juice. You will find the juice of the Florida Citrus Exchange is so much sweeter than that of the others that the other seems almost bitter. In tree-ripened Florida Citrus Exchange oranges, the citric acid is converted into sugar; in the others, the acid remains to make your mouth wry.

Your grocer has Florida Citrus Exchange fruit, or can get it for you. The leading grocers in this city have pledged themselves to handle this fruit until the end of the season. If yours does not, we will appreciate a postal card notifying us. You will save money by having your grocer supply you by the box. Every fruit in the box will be just as juicy, just as sweet, just as good, as every other fruit in that box; there can be no bad ones. Florida Citrus Exchange oranges and grapefruit keep for months, sweet and firm, because they are tree-ripened. Many oranges shrivel up, become pithy, or decay—because they have been "ripened" by heat. Booklet with many recipes for use of oranges sent on receipt of four cents in stamps.
